BALLOON STARTS TRIP TOWARD MOON

STRIKE TRUCE IS WELCOMED IN COAL AREA

MINERS HAVE BEEN IDLE 10 DAYS IN WALKOUT

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt in a formal statement early this morning announced a truce between management and labor in the bituminous coal strike in Pennsylvania.

Acting on the suggestion of General Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, the president stated that the strike had been called off "to await the resolution of the whole matter at the coming hearing on the coal codes."

He appointed a board of the following to settle all disagreements in the meantime:

Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company, and Louis Kirstein, Boston manufacturer, representing the NRA industrial advisory board, and George Berry, president of the Pressmen's union, representing the labor advisory board.

The president's statement follows:

"A great coal strike threatened the entire bituminous field and, because of scant storage at factories, also threatened the revival of manufacture on which so much depends. On the basis of a simple suggestion for settlement made by General Johnson, both management and labor have declared an absolute truce on dissession at the mines to await the resolution of the whole matter at the coming hearings on the coal codes.

In the meantime all disagreements are to be settled by a board of my selection to which both sides agree, Gerard Swope, Louis Kirstein and George L. Berry. Never in our country has a strike of such theatened proportions been settled so quickly and so generously.

"The public-spirited men on both sides of the agreement are to be congratulated in thus averting disaster but I cannot let the occasion pass without referring to the tireless and constructive labors of the intermediaries, Governor Pinchot, Gerard Swope, Edward McGrady, and Walter Teagle, as well as to the operators and John Lewis and other representatives of the miners."

TERMS ANNOUNCED

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, announced tonight that a "temporary truce" had been declared in the Pennsylvania bituminous coal strike.

After hearing from President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, New York, Lewis stated the terms of the "temporary settlement" as follows:

1—All strikers will return to their former positions in the mines without prejudice or discrimination.

2—Weighmen are to be employed by the mine workers and paid by them to check the company's coal weights at mines where the miners request them.

3—All matters of dispute arising at mines in the strike area will be referred to the board of three, appointed by President Roosevelt.

Europe Ready for War, Henry Morgenthau Says

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—A statement that "all Europe is ready for war" was made by Henry Morgenthau, Sr., today as the diplomat and Democratic counsellor returned from abroad.

A delegate to the wheat conference in Geneva and later an expert with the Americans in London at the economic parley, the former ambassador to Turkey said the war was brewing in Germany. He asserted that the policies of Chancellor Hitler, if successful, would work for a general war, and if these policies were unsuccessful civil war would result within that nation, and spread over the continent.

Asked how Europe could prepare financially and physically for another war, Morgenthau replied: "By martial law. The nations of Europe can easily confiscate enough to carry on war. It is most pathetic, as the masses of the people want peace—but the leaders want war."

Morgenthau said all the nations of Europe were conserving their resources.

"The unwillingness on the part of some of them," he said as he landed from the liner Berengaria, "to go all the way in the matter of wheat curtailments is because of a feeling that they must prepare for war and in preparing they must have grains to store and draw upon.

"All Europe is ready for war," he added. "France is working tooth and nail to be self-contained and is offering a bonus on wheat. In Germany there will be war within or without. Conditions all over Europe are similar to what they were in 1913.

"All the countries are expending more for armament. All distrust each other. Europe will not look to us for manpower again, as she has all the men she wants, but one group or another would like a financial alliance with us."

Morgenthau said he would present these views to President Roosevelt.

RECALL CHARGE TO BE REVISED

New Petitions Drafted in Movement to Oust Comstock

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—Holding that the original grounds on which the recall of Governor William A. Comstock was to be sought would not have constituted adequate reason, George W. Brooks, president of the Detroit branch of the citizens' recall committee, announced today that new petitions will be drafted and substituted for the former blanks.

As in the case of the original petitions, four accusations will be made in the new petitions. They will charge that Governor Comstock refused to make an affidavit of campaign expenses and file an account thereof as required by law; that he has allowed wholesale pardons and paroles to the detriment and welfare of the people of the State of Michigan; that he "has allowed questionable characters to influence the state government and, as such, has shown a lack of competent leadership," and that he has "violated his oath of office by utter disregard for the laws of the State of Michigan."

The original petitions sought the governor's recall on the ground that he had vetoed the small loan bill; that he vetoed the chain store tax; that he did not attempt to fulfill his campaign promises and that he "allowed outside interference, adverse to the good of the people of the state, to influence his actions."

SHIPPING BOARD DAYS NUMBERED

Federal Reorganization Drops 16-year-old Merchant Fleet

BY DON J. KIRKLEY

Washington, Aug. 4. (AP)—A cherished hope of the administration to get the government out of the shipping business today has combined with President Roosevelt's federal reorganization plans to shorten the days left to the 16-year-old merchant floot corporation and shipping board.

Officially, the board stands abolished next Thursday under an executive order by Mr. Roosevelt. The fleet organization and its 38 remaining ships will be transferred to the commerce department for direction.

Just what the department will do with the vessels and the approximately 1,000 employes it will take over has not been determined, but it intends to carry on the policy of winding up commercial maritime activities.

One official who is at work on the department's plans for the fleet's future smilingly observed: "We're going to eat the fleet corporation first and digest it later."

Encouragement of American merchant marine development and regulation of water carriers, duties for which the board was set up in September, 1916, are to be carried on by the commerce department, along with administration of the revolving loan fund for shipbuilding.

Mutilation Story Of Boy Proves Hoax

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 4 (AP)—The story of Philip Charles Edwards, 19 year old San Diego high school graduate, who tried for three days to convince officers he mutilated and killed Dalbert Aposhian, 7, was disclosed as a hoax late today, police announced.

His object, he told his mother, Mrs. Helen Graham, and his attorney W. S. Staley, was that he hoped to get a vaudeville contract.

PROBLEM YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY

Balfe Macdonald, 17, Tells Judge He Killed Mother

Flint, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—An offer by Balfe Macdonald, 17-year-old "problem youth," to plead guilty to the slaying last May 27, of his mother, Mrs. Grace Baird Macdonald, was refused in circuit court today by Judge James S. Parker. After a hearing lasting nearly an hour, the court announced a sanity commission of three physicians would be appointed to examine the boy.

Appearing unexpectedly in court today with his attorney, Clifford A. Bishop, his guardian, Dr. David L. Treat, and Prosecutor Andrew J. Transhue, the youth was questioned by Judge Parker, and as he stood before the court he said:

"I plead guilty."

Prosecutor Transhue then asked him: "Did you kill your mother with a pair of book ends?"

"Yes," the boy replied.

It was then the court announced it would not accept the plea of guilty, and would designate three physicians to examine into Macdonald's sanity. No date was set for the examination. Today's proceedings were taken to mean there would be no trial in the case. If the examination discloses Macdonald to be insane he will be committed to an asylum. If on the other hand he is found sane, the court in all probability will accept the plea entered today.

Kidnaper Under Death Sentence Asks New Trial

Kansas City, Aug. 8 (AP)—Walter H. McGee, under a jury's sentence of death for the kidnaping of Mary McElroy, applied in circuit court today for a new trial.

Ralph Harding, his attorney, filed with the application an affidavit by Samuel W. Liske, attorney, asserting he saw the jurors reading Kansas City newspapers while they were at dinner with deputy sheriffs during the course of the trial.

McGee, former Oregon convict, was convicted of abducting Miss McElroy, daughter of the city manager who ransomed her for $30,000. McGee's death penalty verdict was the first returned in a kidnaping case in the nation.

Oklahoma City, Aug. 4 (AP)—Home from around the world in record time, Wiley Post and his famous purple and white plane, the Winnie Mae, landed at the municipal airport at 5:20 p. m. today.

Among the thousands gathered at the airport to welcome Oklahoma's most famous flier were his wife, his father and mother.

The wind velocity here increased to 70 to 75 miles an hour and the barometer dropped to 29.29 at 6 p. m. Limbs were torn from trees and hurled through the air, buildings were unroofed and plate glass windows damaged.

Port Isabel streets were littered with signs, awnings and the fragments of roofs and porches. Fishing shacks along the shore were demolished.

San Benito received a barometer reading of 29.28, with an estimated wind velocity of 60 miles an hour. The wreckage of signs and debris also cluttered the streets there.

ROAD PROJECTS ALL SUBMITTED

Work in Peninsula Will Start First, Says Van Wagoner

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, reported at the Michigan trade recovery fifth zone conference that his department, in conjunction with the federal bureau of public roads, is now in a position to recommend definitely 70 projects involving expenditure of $3,500,000.

The projects, he explained, are on federal trunk line routes, outside of cities. Upon federal approval, he said, they could be gotten underway at once, in the preliminary stages.

The department has under consideration selection of projects suggested from various counties embracing federal trunk lines within cities, and secondary, or feeder, routes within or without municipal boundaries. Establishment of a definite program under all three headings, he said, will result in final distribution of highway projects throughout the state.

Commissioner Van Wagoner is

Gandhi Sentenced To Prison for Year

Poona, India, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Mahatma Mohandas K. Gandhi, free for just four minutes today, was again a prisoner in Yeroda jail tonight under a new and more permanent status.

He was sentenced to one year of simple imprisonment because he declined to accept conditions under which he was released. These were that he refrain from political activities and remain in the Poona district.

Troops Called, 2 Dead In Kentucky Election

Harlan, Ky., Aug. 4. (AP)—With 150 additional state troops ordered into the county to supplement 50 already on duty, and two men dead from fights attributed by officials to pre-election trouble, Harlan county was tense tonight on the eve of a bitterly contested local primary.

The second slaying in as many days occurred late today as Wallins Creek, ten miles from here in Harlan county, about the same time Adjt. Gen. H. H. Denhardt was ordering the extra troops to be on hand for tomorrow's balloting.

The victim today was Joe Lee, 40, a deputy policeman at Wallins Creek. Reports brought to the sheriff's office here said Lee was shot during a quarrel with another man over election cards. Lee, the officers were told, had torn down some cards and the other man ordered him to replace them. When he refused, they argued and the shooting followed. John Turner, 45, was arrested in connection with the shooting brought here and released under guard pending investigation of the affair.

Robert Roark, 35, was shot to death yesterday at Kenvir, near Heren following charges of irregularity in handling ballot boxes distributed for the primary. His brother, Arthur Roark; Bill Farley, Bill Parton and Fred Jones, a Republican candidate for county attorney, were beaten severely. Arthur Roark, Farley and Parton were brought to jail here but no charges were placed against them. Officers said they had not completed their investigation of yesterday's clash.

Fusion Picks Laguardia For Mayor of New York

BY FRANCIS A. JAMIESON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Republican mayoralty committee swung into line today behind the fiery Fiorello H. Laguardia, independent Republican and former congressman, chosen by a bi-partisan committee to replace Major General John F. O'Ryan as the fusion candidate for mayor.

Endorsement of Laguardia ended months of internal disagreements among fusion groups seeking to oust Tammany Hall from control of the city government by defeating Mayor John P. O'Brien.

"This campaign requires the cooperation of all people and groups interested in good city government," said Laguardia in agreeing to become a candidate. "It is not merely a political contest but a citizens' movement for the salvation of the city."

Laguardia's selection was attributed to the influence of Samuel Seabury, prosecutor of the Hofstadter legislative committee's searching inquiry into the city's affairs, who himself refused to become a candidate.

Laguardia's career has been unusual—attorney, diplomat, aviator and politician. At 20 he entered the diplomatic service, serving in Budapest and as consul in Fiume, Italy, his mother's birthplace.

He returned to the United States after two years and began the study of law at New York university. In 1916, while serving as a deputy attorney general, he announced his candidacy for congress in the strongly Democratic twelfth district. He surprised leaders of both parties by his election.

Laguardia was in congress only a few weeks when he asserted his independence. He became an ardent supporter of President Wilson.

When war was declared he volunteered for the air corps, was sent to Italy, flew a bombing plane over the enemy lines on a series of raids and found time to serve as an unofficial ambassador.

The war ended, Laguardia directed his attention to city politics and was elected president of the board of aldermen. In 1923 he was reelected to congress. He was defeated last year.

FLOOD REPAIR WORK STARTED

Search Continues for Missing at Denver; Tons of Debris

Denver, Aug. 4. (AP)—Searchers waded through tons of silt and debris today trying to locate five persons, believed to have perished in yesterdays flood. Denver meanwhile threw open its doors to hundreds of refugees made homeless by the billion-gallon deluge which swept a 35 mile path of devastation into this city from the broken Castlewood dam.

Camped near Frankton, just below the dam, were two gold miners and a family of three persons, Franktown residents said. No trace of them had been found late today. The known deaths remained at two—Tom Carey, Denver, and Bertha Catlin, ranch employe.

Farmers and stockmen and their families whose homes in the valley between the dam and Denver were swept away or left crumbling by the surging floodwaters, were brought to Denver today by the scores. The Salvation Army assumed the task of temporarily feeding and sheltering them.

The police welfare bureau found quarters for dozens of flood refugees. Friends and neighbors sheltered Denverites whose residences in the lowland sections were floodd.

Three thousand unemployed men were drafted by the city to begin clearing the tons of debris the flood carried down Cherry creek into the city. Crews were busy pumping out water-filled basements of downtown stores and salvaging thousands of dollars worth of merchandise.

Jobless, Goes Nude To Get Into Jail

Kansas City, Aug. 4 (AP)—Five police cars with screaming sirens rushed to the spot. True to their information, they found a nudist, jauntily attired in a straw hat and a pair of shoes, smoking a cigar as he strolled along.

The police improvised a costume for their prisoner and hustled him off to headquarters.

There he said he was David Friesen, 37, of Boise, Ida., out of employment and had strolled about disrobed hoping to land in jail without the necessity of committing a more serious offense.

He was dressed, fed and locked in a cell.

Hikes To Detroit From Mexico To Confess Murder

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—Thomas Stevens, Jr., 25, walked into the prosecutor's office unannounced today and said he had hitch-hiked his way back from Tia Juana, Mexico, to confess that he killed his brother-in-law May 11 in a family quarrel.

"I tried to run away from my crime," he said, "but my conscience wouldn't let me."

The man he killed was Wheeler Kaiser, 35, Stevens said the quarrel was over some tobacco and chewing gue he claimed Kaiser had taken from him, but that there had been ill feeling between them for some time.

Stevens is held pending investigation.

Blackmail Attempt Brings 5-10 Years

New York, Aug. 4. (AP)—Convicted of attempted blackmail of Bruce Barton, author and advertising executive, Mrs. Frances W. King was sentenced today to serve a prison term of not less than five nor more than ten years.

Mrs. King, accused by Barton of attempting to obtain $50,000 under threat of publishing a novel which he charged was "scurrilous and vicious libel," took the verdict calmly. Her counsel, Solomon Hirschorn, announced an appeal would be filed in a few days.

STOCK MARKET BOMBERS HELD

Suspects Had Packages Addressed to Hoover and Roosevelt

Boston, Aug. 4 (AP)—Boston police late tonight arrested four men allegedly members of the ring responsible for the tear gas bombing of the New York Stock Exchange. The arrests were made in a Milk street loft on a tip telegraphed here by New York police.

The men, all from Greater Boston, said they were members of the "Commoner or International party."

Police said they found "the makings of three bombs" in packages addressed to President Roosevelt, former President Hoover and Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president at the last election.

"The packages contained fuses and alarm clocks for setting off the fuses," Police Lieut. Timothy Donovan said.

Donovan, who headed a raiding party of two sergeants and four patrolmen, said there were no explosives in the packages nor did they find any in the loft.

The arrested men gave their names as: William Overton, Somerville; Otto Kernele, Cambridge; Paul Palaczi, West Somerville, and Clarence Lyons, Cambridge.

LETTER IS CLUE

Boston, Aug. 5 (AP)—Boston police at early morning roll call today were ordered to arrest Eugene S. Daniel, Jr., of Somerville for questioning in connection with the tear gas bombing of the New York Stock Exchange.

Daniel's arrest was ordered by Lieut. Timothy Donovan after he had questioned four men arrested in a Milk street loft last night.

Lieut. Donovan said Daniel was in New York yesterday and that he had been known to have bought two tear gas bombs from a Boston sporting goods store about a month ago. The lieutenant said that suspicion was directed at Daniel especially, however, because of a letter he recently sent a Boston friend.

The letter, Donovan said, read: "Am coming to New York and want you to handle publicity as you did here in Boston but will be of a more spectacular sort. Can you get me a pass to New York Stock Exchange, the grain pit or curb?"

Gar Wood Flying Into Peninsula

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—Gar Wood, his wife and son, Garfield, Jr., took off today in Wood's big amphibian plane for a vacation flight about the Great Lakes. His immediate destination was the Wood summer camp at McGregor bay, in the Georgian bay region.

Thence he plans to fly to Little Current, Sault Ste. Marie and along the south shore of Lake Superor, with stops probable at Munising, Marquette and Houghton. He hopes to fly across to Isle Royale and thence to Duluth, where he lived for 20 years.

The flying vacation, he said, probably would take a week or ten days.

GOAL SOUGHT IS 10 MILES ABOVE EARTH

SETTLE TO SURVEY STRATOSPHERE MYSTERIES

Soldier Field, Chicago, Aug. 4. (AP)—At 11:50 (CDT- Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle expressed complete satisfaction with prevailing weather conditions and announced he would start his stratosphere flight within an hour and a half. The huge balloon was about half inflated at this time, taking on the appearance under glaring lights of Soldier Field of a huge white toadstool.

A ground crew of 100 men was pumping hydrogen into the balloon, the largest ever built for an attempt to go further away from the earth than man has ever gone before.

Record 52,000 Feet

Lieut. Com. Settle arose from a few hours sleep and declared himself ready for the flight and confident he would exceed the present mark of 52,000 set by Auguste Piccard last year.

A clear sky—the bluest Chicago has seen in weeks— awaited the departure of Settle on his attempt to settle the scientific dispute over the riddle of the cosmic rays—and incidentally to attempt a new altitude record.

The scene of the ascent was Soldier Field, world's largest out of door arena located at the fringe of the World's Fair grounds.

Several thousand spectators had arrived in the amphitheater hours before the scheduled time of the take-off. There were cavalry parades and speeches by dignitaries of the army and navy.

Kleig lights turned the darkness of the vast stadium into blinding light. Colored searchlights played on the skies from the exposition grounds.

"Happy Landing"

The spectators listened to words of well wishes for Commander Settle's success in his daring venture.

In resounding phrases, Prof. Jean Piccard, who was to have accompanied Settle, but gave up his place to lighten the load, expressed the hope that Settle would have a "happy landing."

Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes, wife of the president of the World's Fair, dedicated the craft by breaking a small vial of "liquid air" upon the gondola which will carry Settle far into the uncharted area of the skies.

As the loudspeakers carried from the stadium's center the explanations of observers that Commander Settle would make a solo flight, many arguments started in the crowd.

"He's going to try to reach the moon," said one spectator.

"No it's a planet he's shooting for," said another.

Will Drop Ballast

A few hours in the purple haze of the stratosphere, and Settle will begin dropping back to the the earth.

The speed of the descent will be controlled by dropping ballast, consisting mostly of instruments placed on the outside of the gondola to record the antics of the cosmic rays. Each instrument

Law 58 Years Old Holds Up Payment To Wheat Farmers

(Copyright 1933, By The Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 4. (AP)—President Roosevelt today was called upon to rescue from jeopardy plans of farm administrators to distribute about $200,000,000 to farmers within the next 60 days as benefits for agreements to curtail their output of wheat and cotton.

A 58-year-old law has been interpreted by some officials as requiring definitely that when the government makes a payment to any party it must withhold sums due it. If this interpretation is upheld it would cause a substantial portion of the payments, probably one half, to be offset by large sums which farmers scheduled for benefits now owe the government much of it in default.

Called upon for an opinion to clear the impasse Attorney General Cummings has drafted an opinion but referred it to the president at Hyde Park, Yew York.

LIQUOR CARGO SEIZED

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—Officers of the immigration border patrol Friday seized a speedboat which they valued at $3,500 and a cargo of liquor and champaigne worth approximately $1,500 at the foot of Alter road in the Detroit river. They said a man and women brought the boat across the river from Canada, but disappeared before they could reach the boatwell where it was docked.

MOLEY DRAFTS WAR ON CRIME

Immediate Results Not To Be Expected, Says New Consultant

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Leadership in the federal government's drive against organized crime was assumed today by Raymond Moley, assistant secretary of state, with announcement that he would not concern himself with individual cases, such as the O'Connell kidnaping at Albany.

Moley, who moved into the justice department under special assignment from President Roosevelt to fight racketeering, kidnaping, and gangster activities, will direct his efforts toward coordinating the law enforcement agencies of the federal and state governments.

An emphatic "no" was Moley's reply to questions as to whether he would resign from the state department in the face of reported differences with Secretary Hull.

The assistant secretary assumed his new task with a show of eagerness, but warned against expecting any sudden or immediate results in the drive against organized crime.

Moley will serve as a consultant, to cooperate with Attorney General Cummings and his assistants.

He refused to say whether he favored the establishment of a "Scotland Yard" in the United States to coordinate federal and state efforts in combatting crime, but said he did not confer with any Scotland Yard officials during his recent visit to England to attend the London conference.

Glider Records Broken, Student In Air 36 Hours

Brandenburg, East Prussia, Aug. 4 (AP)—Kurt Schmidt, Koenigsberg university student, flying a glider he built himself, descended tonight after setting a new world's record of 36 hours and 37 minutes.

He had remained at an altitude of 200 to 300 meters (650 to 1,000 feet) to better the former record of Lieut. Cocke, who established a mark of 21 hours and 34 minutes in Honolulu.

Schmidt, 27 years old, is a Nazi storm trooper whose home is at Alhenstein. Apart from sore eyes, since he wore no goggles, he was in nowise exhausted.

"I intended to stay up longer, but the Lufstport signalled me I had better come down, so down I came."

Schmidt's only sustenance was a couple of sandwiches and a bottle of water.

Time Is Extended For Chelsea Bids

Lansing, Aug. 4 (AP)—Bids for the purchase of the state-owned cement plant at Chelsea will be accepted up to August 15, the finance committee of the state administrative board decided today in granting an extension.

Bids on the plant were called for this morning and the committee announced it had received a few. Other interests, however, which had not submitted bids asked for the extension and it was granted.

Sale of the plant is compulsory after June, 1934, under a law passed by the 1931 legislature.

MOTHER IN PRISON

Hart, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—Mrs. William Evestone, 50, who pleaded guilty in circuit court to aiding in an attempt to free her son, Allen Buck, from the Hart jail, was taken Friday to Detroit to begin serving a three and one-half to seven year sentence in the house of correction there. She admitted smuggling hacksaw blades to Buck, who did not use them but escaped by beating the sheriff over the head.

GOAL SOUGHT IS 10 MILES ABOVE EARTH

will float toward earth by a tiny parachute addressed to Professors Robert A. Millikan and Arthur H. Compton, each of whom hopes to prove thereby his cosmic ray theory.

Also dropped out to regulate the speed of the return trip will be batteries, wireless equipment liquid oxygen apparatus, soda lime carried to absorb carbon dioxide given off by breathing in the air tight cabin, food, extra clothing, and 150 pounds of lead which is part of one of the scientific instruments. Most of the equipment must be retained, however, until the gondola arrives in the "natural air" zone near the earth.

May Drop in Lake

As for the landing place, Settle believes it will be within 50 miles of Chicago. If the craft lands on water, it will float and might even take off again.

For the first few hours of the flight, Settle expects a wind current to carry him westward, perhaps as far as 500 miles. When he reaches the stratosphere, a drift to the east is expected to carry the craft in the opposite direction.

Weather conditions made him confident the journey would end neither past the Rocky Mountains or over the Atlantic ocean. A landing on the Great Lakes, however, is entirely possible.

Settle's final statement:

"The trip should be no more difficult or dangerous than participation in the annual balloon races, in which the pilots sacrifice safety for speed. With the splendid equipment, my height should pass the record of 53,000 feet, how much past it I can not say."

Only 125,000 cubic feet of gas, or about one fourth the capacity of the huge balloon, largest ever built, was required for the take off. Heat from the sun was expected to expand the gas to the bag's capacity.

(By The Associated Press)

Some figures and facts about the Settle balloon trip to the stratosphere:

Point of departure—Soldier Field, Chicago.

Length of flight—20 to 30 hours, barring accident.

Distance—100 to 400 miles, according to wind velocity.

Height sought—Beyond 53,000 feet, the present record.

Purpose—Determination of various facts concerning cosmic rays.

Pilot—Lieut. Comm. T. G. W. Settle of the United States Navy.

Balloon—194.5 feet in diameter, the largest ever built; 600,000 cubic feet capacity; built from an acre of rubberized silk; filled with 125,000 feet of hydrogen; designed like standard racing type.

Gondola—Seven feet in diameter; airtight sealed ball of magnesium alloy; lighter than aluminum; walls one eighth inch thick; weight 196 pounds; will float on water.

Equipment—Four instruments for measuring cosmic rays; container of liquid oxygen for use above 15,000 feet; flying instruments; food and water; wireless receiving and transmitting sets; numerous batteries—and a red tail light required by law.

Henry Ford Heads Dearborn Campaign

Dearborn, Mich., Aug. 3 (AP)—Henry Ford tonight was chosen by organizers of the National Recovery committee here to head the local campaign. Harry H. Bennett, head of the Ford Motor company's service department, was named to the advisory board.

Campaign leaders said Mr. Ford had consented to accept the position and had promised full cooperation.

Roman senators were appointed for life.

Shortly after 4 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) they plan to lift their big cabin plane from Floyd Bennet Field and head out across the Atlantic ocean.

Their course will take them over Newfoundland but they have no definite destination on the other side. They plan to fly as long as their fuel holds out.

Larger Producing Well In Michigan In Clare Oil Area

Clare, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—A new Leehove well on the Verrette farm five miles south and east of Clare, drilled in late Thursday with an estimated flow of ten thousand barrels, was capped late today.

The official check made indicated a flow of a thousand barrels an hour, making it the largest producer in the history of Michigan drilling.

Thousands of barrels of oil flowed out over the field before slush pits and tanks could be erected.

Isaiah Leehove, president of the Mamoth Petroleum company, said that drilling operations in five new locations would be started at once.

Ten wells were staked out by other companies today.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 4 (AP)—The flying Mollisons came back to Bridgeport today for the rededication in their honor of the airport where they crashed July 23, after a flight across the north Atlantic from Wales.

Just twelve days after their "Seafarer" spilled them into a salt marsh on the rim of the airport, Captain James and Amy Johnson Mollison, still nursing their injuries, returned as guests of honor with an escort of American aces.

a member of the advisory board of three appointed by President Roosevelt to handle public works disbursements. In Michigan this work will be carried out in conjunction with the Michigan trade recovery council and other organizations.

Van Wagoner urged that projects be submitted to the board in the near future and said it was his opinion the first projects should be started in the upper peninsula. Don Kennedy, business administrator for the highway department, said that 22 upper peninsula highway projects have been submitted to the federal government for approval and that bids will be asked soon. He said the plan was to start work in the upper peninsula first.

Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien urged construction of paved highways from every gateway in the upper peninsula and said that, as a member of the administrative board, such a plan would have his support.

Joseph M. Donnelly, assistant attorney general, asserting that the geographical position of the upper peninsula is a physical handicap to the fifteen counties in taking their problems to Lansing, said he favored every branch of the state government having a representative from that section at Lansing. Each department likewise should maintain a representative in the upper peninsula. Some departments already have adopted that program, he said.

Wireless Pickup May Save Boy On Isolated Island

Seattle, Aug. 4 (AP)—Five year old Henry Loof, desperately ill on Kolak island, 1,000 miles north of Seattle, had a good chance to live today because an amateur wireless operator here picked up a message for help and followed it through until a doctor and an airman fought their way from Anchorage to the lonely settlement.

The operator at Alitak, near Lazy Bay, wirelessed early yesterday that the boy was critically ill. There was no physician for miles and the parents were frantic with worry.

Ed Stevens, Seattle amateur took the message which gave the symptons of the lad's illness. Stevens described them to Dr. A. H. Seering at Harborview hospital who diagnosed the case as appendicitis and advised the boy be rushed to a hospital.

Stormy weather and static prevented the Alitak operator from rousing Anchorage, 400 miles away, so Stevens relayed his message there through wireless in Seattle.

Pilot Harry Blunt and Dr. A. S. Walkowsky, daring the storm which forced them down twice, hopped off from Anchorage and reached Lazy Bay last night after an all day flight.

Emergency treatment was given pending the seaplane's return to Anchorage where an operation could be performed. The boy is the son of Henry B. Loof, former bureau of fisheries warden.

Took Barber Chair Into AEF; Veteran Dies At Manitowoc

Manitowoc, Wis., Aug. 4 (AP)—Richard Belinske, 45, who smuggled a barber chair into France with the A. E. F., died last night.

On the arm of the chair, which Belinske cherished to his death, was a service stripe, said to have been authorized by General John J. Pershing. The general, it was related, was amazed and pleased by the strategy by which Belinske smuggled so cumbersome an object. The soldier-barber dissected his chair and concealed the parts in baggage of officers of his company.

Tug Wreck Lifted At Grand Marais

Grand Marais, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—The Coleman scow has succeeded in lifting the wreckage of the tug, Lydia, which went down in a storm a short distance off the Grand Marais pier with a loss of five lives last November.

It was believed that the bodies of John Tomkiel, engineer, and his assistant, Thomas Larson, were caught in the wreckage, but they were not found. Rubber boots belonging to Tomkiel were found.

CUBAN STRIKES PROVE SERIOUS

Troops May Be Called to Curb Violence and Bloodshed

BY J. P. MC KNIGHT
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Havana, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Machado threatened striking Cuba with martial law today.

Almost simultaneously Clenfuegos, in Santa Clara province, flared into violence. Demonstrating hundreds shattered shop windows, battled police who sought to dissolve them, wounded three and sharply resisted rural guards called to disperse them.

President Machado declared today he would call out troops if necessary to end transportation and allied strikes threatening Havana's sources of food and general commerce throughout the island.

A presidential edict asserted that reports from police indicated "perpetration of deeds really seditious by striking workers," and that the purpose of the movement was "to produce general paralyzation of the nation's mercantile and ordinary life."

The word "seditious" in the edict was regarded by many Cubans as official confirmation of their view, that the strike is a "passive resistance revolutionary movement."

From the protest ten days ago of a few omnibus employes against what they called exorbitant fees for operating permits, the movement has increased so swiftly that today many transportation arteries as far east as Camaguey province were blocked. It was estimated 20,000 workers in various lines of activities were on strike.

Beer Baron Faces Contempt Charges

Chicago, Aug. 4 (AP)—Allegations of contumacious conduct and trifling with the dignity of the federal court may bring Terry Druggan, former beer baron, back to Chicago for trial on charges growing out of liberties accorded him at Leavenworth penitentiary.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney J. C. Leaton, who has investigated the matter for District Attorney Dwight H. Green submitted a preliminary opinion holding contempt of court charges involving the two allegations might haul Druggan back before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson here.

Leaton said he was not prepared to say whether prison attaches who allegedly aided Druggon enjoy some of the comforts of home while behind the bars could be brought to trial on the same charges.

Smoker At Four, He Hates Cigars

Seattle, Aug. 4 (AP)—What becomes of a little boy who, at the age of four years, is known as the smoker of big black cigars?

Freddie Riggs, now 9, is the boy and today he was found in a lot near his home playing cowboy with other make believers. He is a husky youngster, browned by days of play under a hot sun.

But cigars find no favor with the young man who seemingly enjoyed them five years ago.

"They taste rotton," he said explaining he doesn't like to smoke any more.

shacks on the lower end of San Padre island were smashed in by heavy seas.

Campers and a detachment of cavalrymen were marooned on Brazos island, also near the mouth of the Rio Grande, but shore observers said they were on high ground and appeared to be in no danger.

The hurricane, with a wind of 60 miles an hour velocity, disrupted light and power lines in Brownsville and severed telephone connections with Port Isabel and the coast guard station on Padre island.

When the last report was received from Padre island at 4:30 p. m., the barometer there stood at 29.17, a wind of an estimated velocity of 70 miles an hour was blowing and heavy seas were sweeping over most of the island. A dozen coast guardsmen were marooned there, but were believed to be safe.

Italians Choose Route By Azores

Rome, Aug. 4 (AP)—Aviation Minister Italo Balbo sent a message from Shoal Harbor, Newfoundland, today stating he has decided to lead his Italian seaplane armada homeward by way of the Azores instead of Ireland.

Continuance of bad weather over the North Atlantic prevented the planned ocean crossing to Valentia island, Irish Free State, he said.

Meteorological stations were ordered to prepare a route via the Azores and Lisbon. General Balbo said he intended to take off from Shoal Harbor after August 10.

Thousands Drown In Chinese Flood; 200 Villages Gone

Shanghai, Aug. 4, (AP)—Chinese dispatches from Sian, Shensi Province, said today ten thousand persons were drowned and an equal number made homeless in floods along the Chang river.

The reports said 200 villages were destroyed and that river dykes collapsed at Sanyuan.

A typhoon reported heading toward Shanghai from the vicinity of Guam continued northward and was said to have struck the coast of Korea. Official weather reports said it passed 200 miles east of Shanghai.

STRIKE TRUCE IS WELCOMED IN COAL AREA

vania coal strike and the enlistment of fourteen new industries under codes to increase the purchasing power of their workers today moved the national recovery program ahead at a quickened tempo.

After two days and nights of conferences, Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, just before dusk announced the basis of an accord on the coal strike had been reached. He departed immediately by airplane for Hyde Park, New York, to submit it to President Roosevelt.

Johnson himself was busily engaged through the day in strike-settling, but he paused long enough to tell newspapermen that the campaign for re-employment of 5,000,000 jobless persons by Labor Day was progressing faster than even he had expected.

He said, however, he had no idea how many employes already had been touched by codes and agreements, adding:

"And I am not going to start counting the sheep until we have most of them herded together."

Announcement was made in New York that utility and gas companies would sign codes affecting 350,000 employes and file them with the administration tomorrow.

Can't Use Pressure

Cleveland A. Newton of St. Louis said he would file exceptions for the American shoe manufacturers to the code submitted by the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association demanding a wider wage differential for plants in small cities and towns.

While going ahead with his endeavor to put a blue eagle in every business establishment in the country, Johnson cautioned against sudden pressure upon businesses that are trying to cooperate.

He pointed out that many firms could not readjust their operations to new wages and hours overnight and until they had actually complied were not eligible to display the N. R. A. insignia.

He estimated that about two weeks should elapse before general pressure would be applied against those not attempting to participate in the push toward greater purchasing power.

In response to reports of violations of the agreements by establishments which have signed the agreements, Johnson said no policing powers were to be established in Washington and that generally the concentration of public opinion in each community would be depended upon.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Here are some of the questions and answers developed today at the National Recovery administration:

Do local NRA committees have power to arbitrate wages?

They do not, the wages being specified in either a code or President Roosevelt's blanket code, and only the administration here can make exceptions.

What is the status of service employes such as barbers, beauty shop operators and others who have been working on strict commission basis for several years? Are they subject to wage and hour limitations?

The president's agreement specifies that it does not apply to bona fide commission workers.

What is the application of the agreements to small businesses employing only a few persons and doing practically no business?

They can continue to operate, but if they want an eagle they must compiy with the wage and hour clauses.

Is an employer who has signed the president's re-employment agreement abiding by its provisions if he turns off any of his employers?

No. More jobs, not fewer jobs, is the objective.

Are operators of large farms employing many workers expected to comply with the NRA agreements?

No. Agricultural labor specifically is exempt from the industrial program.

VETERAN SUICIDE

Detroit, July 3 (AP)—Arrangements were made Wednesday for the funeral of Francis L. Ausher, a veteran of the North Russia expedition during the World War. Ausher, who recently was dismissed as an orderly at the U. S. marine hospital here, due to an economy cut, shot and killed himself on a park bench at Belle Isle. He will be buried in the Polar Bear plot in White Chapel Memorial cemetery.

NRA SUPPORT IS GIVEN HERE

Many Escanaba Concerns Lining Up With Program

While messages continued to pour into Washington from all parts of the country, indicating that the nation has lined up solidly behind the President's Emergency Reemployment Campaign, the local committee was receiving notice of pledges of 100 per cent support from the citizenry of this community.

"America has gone to war," said Carl J. Sawyer, chairman of the local organization of the National Recovery Administration drive. "Yes, that's exactly what has happened. We are at war against as cruel and malicious an enemy as ever attempted to riddle Old Glory. Just think for a moment of the suffering and death that have come from this frightful depression of the last four years.

"We simply must get our people to work," continued Mr. Sawyer, "and this present drive will do it. Here in Escanaba we hear words of praise and encouragement on every hand from those who have studied the plans and realize that they are practicable and economically sound. I refer, of course, to the two plans for the adoption of the industrial codes and the so-called blanket code.

"Very briefly the situation may be explained in this way: In order to build up the nation's buying power to keep pace with the increasing commodity prices, there must be wholesale reemployment—not sometime in the near future but right now. So President Roosevelt, acting under the Industrial Recovery Act, first entrusted to General Hugh S. Johnson the organization of the vast task of working out acceptable industrial codes. This work has been progressing rapidly and satisfactorily. Then in order to speed things up still more and get men back to work more quickly throughout the nation, thus raising the mass buying power to keep pace with increasing commodity prices, President Roosevelt has inaugurated the blanket code. This was quite fully gone into in his recent nation-wide radio address. Substantially all concerns employing two or more persons are asked to join up with the president in a movement to maintain wages at least at a certain minimum level and restrict working hours within certain limitations.

"Every employer who signs this solem agreement with the president of the United States will immediately have the right to display the N. R. A. emblem in his place of business and on his merchandise, too, if he desires.

"This will notify the public just what places of business have fallen in line with this tremendously important national patriotic movement, and all such firms are, of course, entitled to the same loyal consideration from the general public that would be theirs were we actually at war with an outside enemy and these firms had by some fine display of patriotism shown special loyalty to the commander of the army and navy.

"Yes, America has gone to war—and, as usual, America will win."

Father Mistaken For Deer, Killed; Son Held In Jail

Newberry, Aug. 3 (Special)—Henry Haney, aged 70, is dead of a buck shot wound in the chest and his 46 year old son Otto is being held in the St. Ignace jail as a result of an alleged illegal hunting expedition in Garfield township on Thursday. The two Haneys with William St. Dennis, a son-in-law of the dead man, went out "to get a piece of meat" according to the story told Mackinaw county officials and state police. The elder Haney had left the old tote road on which they were hunting and was returning along a trail. He was dressed in a light tan shirt, grey cap and wore canvas gloves with reddish-brown back. The brush was thick and only a flash of the clothing was sighted by Otto Haney who fired, mistaking his father for a deer. He died at once without speaking.

The accident happened about 3:30 p. m. Officers were notified and made up a party bringing the body out of the woods during the evening. It was brought to Newberry and is in the morgue pending action by the Mackinaw county officials. Otto Haney was taken to St. Ignace and is being held there.

SCHOOL CENSUS REPORT MADE

Preliminary Figures Show 1198 Children in Escanaba

Preliminary figures on the annual census taken in the Escanaba school district this summer show there are 4498 children between the ages of 5 and 20 years. The check-up on the census figures will be completed within a few days.

The preliminary count shows 91 less children of school age in the city than disclosed in the official census of last year, the count then being 4589. The exodus of families from the city to the outlying farm districts is believed partly responsible for the decrease.

The distribution of primary school fund is made on the basis of the census. Last year, the primary school fund amounted to $21,000,000 and the distribution was made on the basis of $15.14 for each census child.

According to an announcement from Dr. Paul Voelker, state superintendent of public instructoin, the primary fund will be about $18,000,000 this year.

Kiwanis Head Says Service Can Solve Problems Of World

Winnipeg (AP)—Service is not love, brotherhood or friendship, but an embodiment of all three, Joshua L. Johns, Algoma, Wis., president of Kiwanis International told delegates to the combined convention of Western Canada and Minnesota-Dakotas which opened session here yesterday.

Service is the universal law of nature, Johns declared, and if property put to use, would set at rest all the problems of the world. "I believe the solution of the problems of wealth is service, not for wages or hire, but service for the sake of service," he said.

"All wealth is social wealth and depends upon society for its value. The time is coming when we will treat with scorn the man who abuses the trust."

The same spirit of service means the solution of municipal problems, he said. He urged men to learn the proper relation of man in civic life and each to give something of his service. "The next generation, in my opinion, will see the proof that service is its own reward."

COMMISSION IS NAMED

ANNOUNCEMENT of the appointment of J. P. Cameron, chairman of the Delta county board of supervisors, James T. Jones, of Gladstone and George E. Weingartner, of Rock, as members of Delta county's welfare commission, by the state emergency welfare board, will meet with the general approval of the people of this county. All of the members of the Delta county commission are men of high caliber, unimpeachable integrity and what is more reassuring than any other fact, political considerations were entirely eliminated in their selection.

Mr. Cameron will take to the new board a wealth of actual experience in welfare work, through his service as director of all welfare agencies in Delta county for the past year and while Mr. Jones and Mr. Weingartner have had no previous experience in this work, their known ability and their high standing in the communities in which they reside, insure a careful, painstaking and impartial administration of all welfare aid activities in this county.

In some quarters there may be disappointment in the fact that Escanaba was not directly recognized on this commission, but those who know and appreciate the high caliber of the men selected, will be satisfied that the welfare needs of this city will be as adequately and fully as satisfactorily recognized, as though an Escanaba man had been named on the board.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT

OFFICIALS of the Michigan Municipal league seem to be quite disturbed over the fact that many cities in the state do not enjoy representation on their county boards in comparison to their populations. Escanaba is listed as one of the cities in the state with under-representation on its county board, but if all county governments in Michigan were conducted on the basis that has been achieved in Delta county there would be little cause for worry.

It will be freely admitted there was a time when constant strife existed between township and city representatives on the county board—when questions of county policy were fought out on a basis of city against township interest. But, happily, such a condition has not existed for a number of years in this county.

There has been developed, rather, a scarcely if ever violated policy in the present county board, of viewing all important matters from the viewpoint of a county community interest, rather than upon the basis of either individual township or city interest. Such a policy has builded county unity and general county cooperation for all projects of community interest. It must be recognized as a highly satisfactory condition, operating for the good of all.

Officers of the Michigan League of Municipalities may be worried over the fact that many cities in the state are under-rpresented on their county boards, but Escanaba and Gladstone have found in the situation nothing to worry about.

FACES LAW AND CONSCIENCE

TWO conclusions are obvious in the item, telling of the killing of an Engadine man by his son, while hunting. One is that the son was an illegal hunter and the other—he was a criminally careless hunter. The item also offers definite proof that deer are being killed out of season.

There will be widespread sympathy for the family of the man who paid the price of his son's illegal and careless hunting, but the son has something besides the law to face—a conscience that probably will disturb him for the remainder of his days.

TOO DIRE PROPHECIES

IN THE eager and hopeful drive to make the recovery act a success it is inevitable that exaggerated statements and predictions should be made. One of them is that it is make or break for this country within the next 60 days. It has been said, in effect, that the industrial recovery act must save us, or nothing else can. Echoes of all this have evidently crossed the sea. In the comments of the London Times, it was stated that if the great American experiment in recovery ended in failure, the result would be "universal disaster."

This is a counsel of fear which ought not to be introduced into a movement trying to enlist hope and courage. The thing to do is to place the emphasis on the positive motives, the promising aspects, the gains already recorded, and to put aside all the "horrible imaginings" about what may possibly happen. We must not forget that other influences are obviously at work to help bring about the results aimed at by the recovery act. Even before it was enacted there were cheering signs of an upward turn from the depth of the depression. They began to show themselves a year ago. Checked for a time by the bank troubles, they resumed their good effect before Congress had got around to the legislation on which so much stress is now being laid. If in its practical application the results do not prove to be all that is hoped for, still there would be no good reason for throwing up our hands in despair. Economic forces and trends in business already apparent would go on helping us up the hill.

There is thus no occasion for sounding alarms in advance, or prophesying the end of all things in case a particular remedy is not at once curative. Our native and acquired powers of recuperation are by no means exhausted.

MOSCOW WANTS ITS SHARE

THE Soviet effort to sell 10 million roubles (about 7 million dollars at present exchange rates) of their bonds in this country offers a strange mixture of savagery and civilization, of shrewdness and mental fog, but always and ever the vital necessity of the existence of the very capitalism they denounce and the destruction of which they once declared was their special mission on earth.

The Soviets have at last awakened to the fact that in making money Americans excel and in making investments they are a lot of suckers. Only a short time ago Russia offered its own people 10 per cent for their funds, but hard-headed, close-fisted Ivan appreciates the risk involved and it took a high rate plus the knout to part him from his begrimed kopecs.

Moscow figures, too, that the American memory is short and will overlook the fact that if the Soviet regime comes to an end, the loaned money is gone forever—for this, indeed, is Soviet doctrine and may be said to be their principal contribution to the already hazardous code of world finance. Then good old whiskered Russians will willingly drink us a toast in burning vodka but treat our money as a gift to uplift the sodden, sunken masses. Well, haven't we been lifting up most of the world?

When the Soviets came to power they repudiated all Russian obligations including those owed to America for wheat to feed starving millions. They did not plead inability to pay or seek postponement, always legitimate moves in the face of great hardship, but they spurned all liability. They were through with capitalism and had something better for the world. Now, if they go by the boards, how can American investors expect repayment from their successors?

Their conduct was as dishonest and reprehensible as though this country under President Harding refused to acknowledge liability to pay Liberty Bonds authorized under President Wilson. The tsarist government, despite its multiple faults, had ruled Russia for centuries and the money it borrowed was honestly advanced by thousands of people. Repudiation under these circumstances was dishonor beyond description. It will hang like the mark of Cain, as a continual and eternal pall, over Russia.

But, there is a pleasant, and perhaps a helpful, side to this loan. All American Reds should be forced to subscribe. It's time to put up especially after so much talk.

BARGAIN BRIDE

CHAPTER XLVII

There was a moon and after dinner Elinor led the way to the terrace. Barrett and Bob Telfare settled themselves beside her, watching the yellow disc ride in the sky. Higgins brought their coffee to them and presently Bessie and Jim Thrope and their boys arrived.

Sexton, who was the youngest and thus able to forget old times, was talking about a motor boat. The other boys spoke eagerly of college in the fall. Bessie listened happily. She knew that something she had said to Elinor that day had made a decided difference. Bessie had seen the changed light in the girl's eyes, a little trembling of her lips. Poor Elinor who was so young, with so much of life to learn!

"We must be going now," Bessie said when the clock indoors struck 10.

After the Thropes had gone, singing on their way down the hill like ancient, traveling minstrels, Elinor went upstairs. For a long while she stood by the window of her darkened room looking over the moonlit world below.

That afternoon Bessie had nodded toward Gerald, playing on the beach with Sexton, and said, "Elinor, I feel that you're misinterpreting something and Jim's forbidden me to say more. He says Barrett would explain if he dared and I must not—if Barrett won't. But, dear, even if the situation were as it seems, you know a woman's job is to help a man make his future worth while. It isn't right to brood over the past. Everything Barrett can become is in your hands. What he was before you knew him—"

Elinor had begun to tremble. She had not wanted to talk about that even to Bessie. Nevertheless Bessie went on. "It's natural enough for you to be jealous about what has been, but you don't really love, my dear, until you want to help the person you love to cover old wounds and forget them. If Gerald is Barrett's son you'll never regret making Barrett as happy as he can be about it. And when you're as old as I am you'll realize that the only times you've been hurt were when you made others downcast by showing them that they hurt you. Barrett loves you. Anyone can see that!"

Elinor had begun to cry. "I do love him, Aunt Bessie," she whimpered. "But—"

They had talked for an hour and Bessie was sure that in some way Elinor had begun to understand the things she longed to tell her and could not.

It was half past 10 when Barrett mounted the stairs. Bob Telfare had gone to his room half an hour earlier. There was a telegram for Elinor and Barrett, not wishing to disturb her, decided to poke it beneath her door. He had writing to do and he knew that he could not sleep. Long training had made it possible for him to concentrate and thereby gain a sort of relief. He worked but his mind was not really on his work. Again and again, as he sat writing, his pen would slow and the objects he was describing—objects he had unearthed after centuries of hiding in the earth—would fade to be replaced by Elinor's face.

Hard moments those; moments when it was all he could do to stay at his desk. Often they left him spent and shaking. It was the futility of the situation that troubled him, the fact that it was all so unnecessary and was making Elinor so miserable.

He tapped on her door and to his surprise heard her say, "Come in!"

"It's I—Barrett," he explained.

"Come in," she repeated.

He opened the door. She was sitting up in bed, the light from a lamp beside her shining down on her hair.

"Have you a moment to spare?" she asked.

"Of course." He didn't understand this. "I brought up a telegram that came for you," he said.

Elinor took it and he sat down in a chair that was near her. She tore open the envelope with its small transparent window. Then, "Mother's married!" she gasped.

She gave him the message and he read it with a certain grim amusement. Lida had married a Chicago merchant whose reputation Barrett knew well—a Bluebeard Croesus with a string of discarded wives in his cupboard. He would, Barrett reflected, be a match even for Lida.

"Well!" he said, and could think of no more suitable comment.

"I expected that—or something like it," Elinor admitted, "but not quite so soon." She grew silent then. Barrett felt she was trying to say something more and that it was not easy for her to begin.

He had his own speech to make and he wanted to get it over. "Elinor," he said, and then hesitated.

"Yes?" Why was she looking at him in that way? It was dangerous for both of them.

Elinor, I want to tell you that I respect you wholly and in every way. I haven't always. I had an idea—a rather fixed idea—that you were carrying on some sort of affair with Bob Telfare. I'm thoroughly ashamed of that now and I hope you can forgive me. I know how fine you are in every way and have always been. I—" he paused, balked.

"But, Barrett! I couldn't do a thing like that!" she said quickly. "I couldn't! I've seen too much of it to be able to indulge in it myself. I've been square—that way, but not in others. I've been—small, Barrett! I know I have."

He saw that her lips were trembling. "I don't see that—," he disagreed.

"Yes, you do! Or you could—if you would! I've made you so unhappy!"

"That wasn't your fault," he assured her. "I know I hurt you—desperately."

She shook her head violently. "I hurt myself," she confessed unsteadily, "by acting the way I have."

She began to cry. She had cried so often in the last weeks, Barrett moved toward her; he could not help it. He settled on the edge of the bed and drew her into his arms. He patted her back with one big hand, held her pressed close to him with the other. His own eyes were stinging.

"I want to make you happy," he heard her say brokenly.

"If you're happy then I will be," he told her, hardly more steadily.

"In a little time, Barrett," she said. "I'll be just as I was—before. I need a little more time to get adjusted."

"Dearest, I want you to be happy. That's all I care about!"

"Do you mean you still love me?"

"Darling!" He didn't intend that his arm should tighten but it did. He hid his face against her hair. He managed to say, "It's been—hell!"

"I love you!" Elinor said. Then, "Barry! Barry!" for she had felt the sob that shook him.

She remembered Bessie's words. Her arms were around him now, holding him tightly. Bessie had said you only loved truly when you wanted to help the one you loved to forget old wounds. Well,

TRAINING

The horse that bolts and leaps about
Before it hears the starter's shout
Will lose the race before it's run—
The horse that won
Waited the word, and then set out.

The youth who runs that other race,
The race of life, will win the place
Who bravely, patiently prepares—
Outlasts, outwears,
The youth who tries the swifter pace.

For they who wear the winner's flow'rs
Not in the race attain their pow'rs,
But training brain and training brawn
Against the dawn
When opportunity is ours.

The nights of study bring the day
Of later knowledge. Only they
Shall win who first have worked to win
The race they're in—
Because there is no other way.

MANY SETTLING ON HOMESTEADS

State Lands Can Be Obtained for Ten Cents Per Acre

In the back to the farm movement that is going on in Delta county, about fifteen families have settled on state homestead lands during this year, according to an official account.

Most of these have been located in the Cornell and Schaffer region, where families have been placed under the plan adopted by the board of supervisors.

Following is the section of the state law referring to Tax Homestead Lands:

"All such lands shall be held by the director of conservation subject to entry as homestead lands unless withheld and reserved in the manner following: The director of conservation and the auditor general, acting jointly, may reserve and withhold from entry under the homestead right such portion of the lands deeded by the auditor general to the state under section 127 of the act No. 206 of the public acts of 1893, and acts amendatory thereto as, in their opinion, it may not be advantageous to open for homestead.

"The director of conservation may also, with the approval of the conservation commission, withhold from entry under the homestead right and sale, such lands as he may determine to be suitable for state forests, state parks, state game refuges, public hunting or recreational grounds. The said director of conservation and auditor general may affix a minimum price upon any such land not so reserved and withheld.

"All such lands not so withheld from sale shall be offered for sale by said director of conservation at prices to be discretionary with him: Provided, that in the sale of these lands not so reserved and withheld the same rules and regulations as provided in act no. 21 of the public acts of 1893, entitled "an act to require the commissioner of the state land office to give public notice of the restoration of reserved and forfeited state lands to market," shall govern, and no bid shall be accepted for less than the minimum price affixed by such director of conservation and the auditor general.

"The proceeds from any such sale shall be accounted for to the state, county and township in which said lands are situated pro rate according to their several interests therein arising from the non-payment of taxes thereon as such interest shall appear in the office of the auditor general. If any person shall apply for any lands not withdrawn from sale as provided herein not to exceed in quantity 160 acres, or if, within the limits of the plat of any city or village, not to exceed the contiguous lands in any one block, or two contiguous parcels of unplatted land, for any one person so applying, and shall file an affidavit that such person desires such land for actual settlement, for the purpose of a homestead, the director of conservation shall, if in his judgement, the application is made in good faith, issue a certificate to such person for such land upon the payment of the sum of 10 cents per acre, conditioned that such person shall reside upon said land for five years and improve the same."

Alexander Bain, English physicist, made the initial step in the transmission of pictures by electricity in 1842.

Escanaba Girls Went to Chicago, Didn't Find Fair

They went to Chicago, true enough, but they didn't see the World's Fair. They couldn't find it!

Two Escanaba girls, whose experience is causing considerable merriment among members of their families, arrived in Chicago and boarded a surface car in search of the Exposition grounds. They failed to find the place, so they got off and tried another car, with the same results.

Finally, after riding for a couple of hours they decided to call it a day. They returned to the station and boarded the next train for home.

Now read the Classified page.

First Million Sees Michigan's Exhibit

Official figures issued by the Century of Progress exposition authorities show that over 100,000 people are attending the fair daily.

"The attendance at the Michigan exhibit averages around 20,000 a day," said Geo. E. Bishop of Marquette, manager of the state display in the Court of States. "We have already contacted a million people through our exhibit at the fair.

"Every day brings a dozen or more Upper Peninsula people to the Michigan rooms, and they are very complimentary," continued Mr. Bishop. "They are practically unanimous in saying that the exhibit constitutes an outstanding advertising effort for Michigan."

Greys And Wine Reds Predominate At Paris Opening

Paris—It's a caviar and wine year!

The predominating colors at the Paris openings are every conceivable shade of gray and many wine reds. Dull blues, black and dark browns are next in importance.

There's going to be a revival of home sewing in America because exquisite hand ruchings, stiff cordings, chenille fagotting and patterned tucks are the paramount decorations on these new fall and winter clothes.

There is a definite trend back to quality and individuality. Rich fabrics such as taffetas, new velvets and novelty wools again come into their own.

Clinging materials of last season are conspicuous by their absence.

Wide shoulders are out. Sleeves are sleek with all fullness centered below the elbows.

Daytime skirts are pleated — no circular cuts. Evening skirts have their fullness below the knees via spectacular ornate circular flounces that swish.

Maggy Rouff shows split skirts. Lyolene features 1890 bustles. Lolong has many drop shoulders.

Dilkusha shows a tight sleeved dinner gown in wine-red taffeta with a quaint high-neck and a bustle. A huge cameo brooch at the throat of the gown is an interesting note. Dilkusha also shows those startling Lastex velvet pullover sweaters for evening.

As an economy step, you can remove last year's fur puffed sleeves and use half for fur strips lengthwise towards the elbow and the other half for mudguard basques over your hips. Maggy Rouff shows several models in this mode.

If you would have the latest choker collar, tight fitting, buttoned-up-the-front blouse for your suit, visit a remnant counter and get a piece of Persian brocade, satin, lame or novelty wool.

Brilliant velvet, choker collar blouses with dark suits are much in evidence. So are flamboyant striped wool blouses.

Buttons seem to have been left out of the picture this year. Suits and coats are fastened ingeniously with spectacular jewelled swords, long hooks, ball fastenings, huge plaques and novelty buckles.

Formal afternoon, evening and daytime coats are, for the most part, short. Swagger coats be they full or seven-eighths length—have had their day. The princess line predominates.

Many coats and suits have wide leather belts withe normous, decorative fastenings.

Sports things are double breasted with tailored revers and turned down collars. Other suits and coats have occasional fur bows or soft, gathered fur collars and basques. There are several fur muffs but few fur cuffs. Separate fur scarfs are shown only with sports clothes.

Stripes, checks, plaids and polka dots are passe except as trimmings or linings for suits and coats.

There are very few long tunic blouses. Luminous satin fashions the glamorous blouses for afternoon suits.

Nearly everything depends on quality of fabrics for interest and decoration. There are few gadgets and practically no separate collar and cuff sets. Bows are really a part of the dress or suit on which they are worn.

Costume jewelry is restrained in favor of arresting single pieces. Individual elegance predominates. This is the year to polish up the large family cameos or quaint, imposing brooches. They are exactly what the well dressed lady will wear at her throat.

Governor's Ball Follows Banquet Monday Evening

One of the outstanding social events of the convention of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district of Kiwanis, which opens here on Sunday, will be the Governor's Ball, Monday evening at the Coliseum, following the governor's banquet.

Extension preparations for the ball are being made by the committee in charge, and the affair promises to be one of the largest and most enjoyable of the convention entertainment features.

The dance program will be played by the Aristocrats nine piece orchestra.

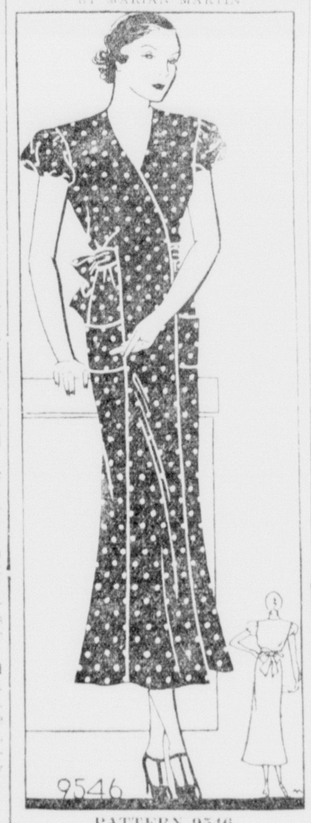

John J. Bartella is chairman of the committee in charge of the ball as well as of the banquet, and serving with him are William Warmington, Attorney C. E. Lewis, Clarence Zerbel, Henry H. Bathke and Dr. H. J. Miller.

PLENTY OF LUCKY SEVENS

Murray, Ky. (AP)—If seven is lucky, then young Dale Hortin, son of the head of the department of journalism at Murray college, does not need to carry a horseshoe or rabbit's foot with him. He is the seventh child, born about 7 p. m., on the seventh day of the week, seventh month of the year, in 1917.

AMUSEMENTS

"Elmer the Great" with Joe Brown, and "Child of Manhattan" with Nancy Carroll, will be shown again in a double feature program at the Delft today.

Chalk up another home run for Joe E. Brown, in his hilarious comedy-drama anent the inside of big league baseball. "Elmer the Great." It's not only one of the most side-splitting pictures this First National comedian has ever given us, but judging by the enjoyment of the audience before which it was presented last evening at the Delft Theatre, it is one of the laugh leaders of 1933 entertainment.

If Joe E. Brown's batting average for knocking out comedy hits was high before—and there is no more reliable purveyor of pure and unadulterated amusement on the screen than he is—his score should shoot up about fifty points on this one.

"Elmer the Great" is hearty, wholesome humor from the time we are introduced to Elmer Kane, world's champion batter, asleep in his Gentryville, Indiana, home until he has won both the girl and the game. And Joe E. Brown plays the part from start to finish, not merely as the good actor he is, but as a former baseball player who thoroughly knows the character he is impersonating.

"Child of Manhattan," a delightful and intriguing screen story made its appearance at the Delft Theatre last night.

Starring the vivacious and beautiful Nancy Carroll, and directed by Eddie Buzzell, "Child of Manhattan" proves to be not only a parcel of fine entertainment but it also contains such attributes as a fine mounting and story twists that reach a new and welcome level in suspense.

Wise selections of the principals also has unearthed a new romantic screen combination. Miss Carroll is ideal as the dance hall girl who gives her love to the handsome, rich New York man-about-town, which in turn is ably portrayed by that favorite of the musical photoplays, John Boles.

Director Eddie Buzzell has handled his scenes with admirable finesse, obtaining touching romance at times and pleasing, feeling comedy at others.

Religious Order Assumes Charge Of St. Mary's

On July 1 the Christian Brothers assumed charge of St. Mary's college, Winona, which, since its foundation by the late Bishop P. R. Heffron, had been conducted by diocesan clergy.

Brother Leopold, now provincial of the Brothers, will replace Monsignor John H. Pesches as president, but Father Julius W. Haun will be retained as vice president and dean of the college. Seven other members of the old regime will also remain. They are: Rev. Alfred L. Frisch, Rev. Bernard J. Mangan, Rev. M. Satory, Messrs. John J. Hoffman, Ph. D., John Gruber, Ph. D., Joseph A. Buff, Ph. D. and Nicholas Musty, B. S. The last named will be the coach of football and basketball, assisted by Marvin Miller, B. S., former quarterback of St. Mary's college, Oakland, Calif.

Brother Richard, the new registrar, was formerly principal of De La Salle high school, Minneapolis, and Brother Justus, who replaces Rev. Robert J. Woods as treasurer, was a member of the teaching staff there two years ago. The other Brothers who will make up the faculty for next year will be selected from communities in St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago.

One hundred and forty Christian Brothers will go on retreat at St. Mary's August 7. When the spiritual exercises are finished, appointments will be announced for the province of the middlewest, and then the full corps of Brothers who are to teach at the college will take up residence.

Residence will take place Monday, September 11, and classes will be resumed the following day. A considerable increase in enrollment is forecast by the unusual number of applicants who have thus far sought admission. A new and wider field of prospective students has been opened up among the high schools conducted by the Brothers, of which there are fourteen, in a territory extending as far north as Duluth, as far west as St. Joseph, Mo., and as far south as Memphis, Tenn.

William Wirt, attorney general during the terms of Monroe and Adams, had the longest term of any other incumbent of that office. He served 12 years, from 1817 to 1829.

Today's Recipe

A Betty Ann recipe for bean pickles which came from Mrs. O. A. Shampine of Munising, is reprinted this morning in answer to a request received from a reader.

Bean Pickles

One peck of beans
Six cups sugar
Three-fourths cup dry mustard
One cup flour
One tablespoon tumeric
Two tablespoons celery seed
Three pints vinegar

Boil beans in salt water until tender; drain. Mix other ingredients together in a large sauce pan and bring to a boil. Then add the beans and boil for five minutes. Seal while hot.

Frozen Cheese and Fruit

1 cream cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ tbsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. salt
2 tbsps. crushed pineapple
¼ cup nut meats
1½ bananas, sliced
½ cup whipping cream

Combine cheese, mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt. Mix in pineapple and nuts. Fold in bananas and cream. Turn into refrigerator tray and freeze 4 hours. Slice and serve on lettuce with French dressing, together with cheese tidbit crackers.

When cooking meats, left-over broths may be congealed with gelatin, thus forming an aspic jelly in which left-over meat or vegetables may be molded. These when arranged effectively in the aspic make a most ornamental cold meat platter.

Young People Leave For Camp At Fortune Lake

Several young people of the Bethany Lutheran church are leaving today for the Fortune Lake Bible camp, located near Crystal Falls, where they will attend the annual encampment of the Luther Leaguers of the Superior Conference.

Others will leave tomorrow or later in the week. Rev. Dr. C. A. Lund and members of his family are leaving for camp Sunday noon to remain there for the entire week.

A very interesting program of Bible study, lectures and inspirational meetings has been scheduled for the week. Every afternoon will be used for recreational purposes. Rev. Arthur W. Knock of the Lutheran Bible Institute of Minneapolis will be in charge of Bible study hours and Dr. C. A. Wendell, also of Mineapolis, will deliver a series of lectures. Several other speakers will also appear on the week's program.

Sunday afternoon, August 13, a mass meeting will be held at which time Dr. Wendell will speak on the subject, "The Rock Under the Church."

A Salad of Grapefruit and Cream Cheese

Fresh grapefruit mixed with cottage cheese makes a delicious hot weather salad.

Peel the fruit and remove the skin and pulp from the individual sections. This is one time when you do not have to be careful about breaking the sections into little pieces.

Mix the grapefruit meat lightly with cottage cheese and serve, ice cold, on a bed of lettuce.

This makes a handsome salad for individual portions, particularly if you top each plate with a whole section of grapefruit and one red cherry.

Serve French dressing in a bowl and let each person help himself at the table.

Presentation Of "Charley's Aunt" In Polish Sunday

It is the first production of its kind in this district and is of unusual interest to residents of Polish descent.

Members of the cast include Joseph Bartoszek, Marion Jamroch, Stephen Jamroch, Walter Wejwer, Edward Czapkowicz, Helen Bloniarz, Josephine Nowak, Sophie Bartoszek, Helen Mazor.

The play will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

BARGAIN BRIDE

By KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

Elinor knew that she loved Barrett now.

He raised his face from her shoulder. "I'm sorry, Elinor," he said.

"Nothing matters but your happiness!" she broke in as he paused. She ran an unsteady hand over his dear, stiff, sandy-hued hair. She tried to smile at him. His lips twitched; yet again his eyes filled.

He kissed her hands then, showing in the way he kissed them all the hunger he had felt, all the great love he had for her. He would be endlessly patient, he declared, if only she would assure him that some day she might feel as she had before. He would do everything—everything—to make it easy. She was the one woman in his life. There never could be any other. He would never forgive himself for having doubted her fineness.

"I worship you!" he had said roughly, then hid his face once more against her shoulder.

Alleged Assaulter Of Wife Placed On 6 Months Probation

Charles Smith of Maple Ridge was placed on six month's probation yesterday afternoon when brought into the court of Justice A. D. Alguire on a charge of assault and battery. Smith is alleged to have struck his wife, Maude, during a wordy altercation on Thursday. His daughter, Sylvia, 17, signed the complaint.

Two others, Emily Moses of the Soo, and Levi Feathers of Nahma, were brought before Justice Alguire late in the afternoon charged with being disorderly on the night of August 1 at Nahma where Emily has been visiting for the past week.

Emily, a comely Indian maiden who several years ago traveled with the 101 Ranch show when it made the upper peninsula, denied the charge and after lengthy questioning failed to snake her story the charge was dropped with the provision that the young woman depart from Nahma.

Feathers was taken to the county jail to be held for further questioning.

THEATRES

Heralded as a screen sensation, "King Kong," RKO-Radio Picture shown here for the first time at the Rialto Theatre today, easily fulfils this promise.

The story deals with the harrowing experiences of a party of American motion picture people who visit a strange, remote island in quest of a legendary ape god. It is their idea to find this brute beast and make a photographic record of its reactions to beauty—to find the dawn of man in this ape, a survival, by some weird freak, of the prehistoric ages!

They not only find the ape "King Kong," but find him ruler of the island—feared by the natives, who steal Fay Wray, heroine of the adventure, to provide a sacrifice to the monster, a monster who battles and vanquishes tyrannosauri and pterodactyls over his prey.

The supreme fantasy of "King Kong" begins when "King Kong," after having been captured breaks loose and runs riot in New York. These scenes open your eyes in startling surprise and amazement that the camera and heaven-knows-what-tricks can produce such impossibilities!

GROCERS ADOPT WORKING CODE

Hours from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. Including Saturdays

At a meeting of retail food merchants of this city held at the court house Thursday evening for the purpose of establishing uniform hours of operation, 16 local grocers decided upon a schedule of 60 hours per week becoming effective on Monday, August 7. Grocers will open their stores at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m., including Saturdays, thereby putting into effect a ten hour day. Grocery store employes, however, will work only 48 hours per week in accordance with the newly approved industrial code under the N. R. A., and will receive a wage of not less than $14 per week for the maximum number of hours per week.

Local grocers took steps toward the formation of a city grocers' association which will meet regularly for the discussion of problems peculiar to the trade. Those elected on the committee to draft plans for its organization are Otmer Schuster, Anton Weber, and Hubert Norton. It is planned that members of the local unit may later become affiliated with either the state or national grocer's association. The meeting was presided over by W. L. Middlebrook.

The resolution adopted by the grocers reads as follows:

"Resolved that the food merchants of Manistique will be opened for business at 8 a. m. and closed at 6 p. m. each day, including Saturdays.

"It was also moved and carried that the above resolution be put into effect Monday, August 7."

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The stock market shed a few modest tears on its own account today before the gas bombs sent brokers pouring out with swollen and streaming eyes.

But the market's grief was of limited character compared with the physical discomfort of floor members and employes. Price declines in the short session, so abruptly ended soon after noon by the ruthless gas, ranged from fractions to around 2 points.

The ticker had clicked off a volume of only 540,020 shares before the forced evacuation of the floor. A decline of 1.8 points was registered by the composite Standard Statistics-Associated Press average for 90 selected issues.

In accord with a previous ruling of the governing committee, the stock exchange will be closed all day tomorrow.

With trading proceeding as slowly as the proverbial snail, utilities appeared to be the particular target. General rate uncertainties which have prevailed for some time were believed to be the cause of the uneasiness in this group.

Week-end industrial news was of a satisfactory nature. Utility and gas industries announced that their respective codes, duly signed, would be filed with the industrial recovery administrator tomorrow.

Trade reviews found no cause for concern in the fact that consumer buying thus far has trailed the lusty gains in production. Retail inventories are still below normal, said Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., adding that spending habits acquired under the stark grimness of the last three years cannot be expected to change with one fell swoop.

"The continuous increase in the number of corporations that are reporting profits," said this review, "is supporting reassurance of the extent the recovery has attained."

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Aug. 4—Unusual curtailment of active speculative buying power led to a big downward slide of grain values today.
Perplexities relative to Washington monetary plans were suggested in various quarters as being largely responsible for notable evident slackening of purchase operations, especially in future deliveries of wheat and corn. Adverse crop news was plentiful, but for the moment appeared to have become ineffective to attract broad public interest.
Wheat closed nearly stagnant at the day's bottom figures, 3 cents to 4 cents under yesterday's finish, corn 2 to 2½ down, oats 1½ to 2 1-8 off, and provisions showing 20 to 32 cents decline.
Despite today's wheat market action, trade sentiment after the close was by no means one-sided. A spokesman of one of the largest grain companies here said: "There is entirely too much pessimism in wheat. It is likely that when the national move to advance prices of all commodities gets under way, there will be plenty of bull leadership in grain."
Rains in the middle west did a good deal to drag corn and oats values down. Crop experts said, however, that field conditions for corn were unpromising and regardless of weather hereafter would not be changed to any great extent.
Provisions ranged lower with cereals.

BY VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The bond market, which closed shortly after noon today when tear gas fumes drove brokers from the floor of the stock exchange, displayed an irregular trend in the most indifferent trading of the past several months.

Sales totaled only $4,303,000, par value, and the average for 60 domestic corporate loans was unchanged from yesterday at 81.1.

Moderate pressure was exerted against some of the secondary rail issues before the untimely finish of the lazy session.

Most of the utilities and industrials were without life. Generally, minor gains offset similar losses.

United States government securities were extremely dull and moderately lower.

Foreign obligations were mixed. French government 7s and 7½s lost a point or more, Swiss government 5½s were off 2 and the active British 5½s yielded 1. Some of the Japanese and Germans improved.

Curb Runs Alone; Volume Declines, Prices Are Lower

BY BERNARD S. O'HARA
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The curb exchange conducted trading as usual today despite the premature closing of the New York stock exchange. Left without the influence of the big board prices sauntered lower and volume declined to 186,000 shares compared with 294,000 for Thursday.

Losses which ranged from fractions to more than a point embraced utilities, alcohol shares, metals and oils. Recessions of around a point or so were shown in American Gas & Electric, American Light & Traction, Canadian Industrial Alcohol A, Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, Hiram Walker, Humble Oil, Newmont and Standard Oil of Ohio.

Parker Rust Proof was a lone firm spot, advancing 2½ points while losses of similar proportion were registered in General Tire & Rubber and Commonwealth Edison.

BERRY CROP IS BELOW NORMAL

Department Experimenting to See if Areas Must Be Burnt

Lansing—The weather has taken its share of a large part of an expected summer income for hundreds of northern Michigan people, field officers of the department of conservation are reporting. The blueberry crop is reported to be far below normal.
Reports are that blueberries are nowhere plentiful and that they are scattered, making picking and marketing difficult and unprofitable.
In normal years the blueberry crop attracts hundreds to northern Michigan's berry plains.
Because of the fact that many of the valuable berry areas are on state-owned lands, the department of conservation for several years has interested itself in the blueberry industry and at the forest fire experiment station near Roscommon experiments are conducted to determine whether burning over aids or retars the blueberry crop. Most of those interested in berries have long contended that intermittent burning over is necessary to a continuous crop. As a result of this burning over of the berry plains, many serious forest fires have resulted.
The department does not prohibit trespass on state land for the purpose of berry picking but in such areas it generally maintains emergency forest fire fighting service because of the prevalence of camp fires and an unusual high fire hazard during the berry picking period.

I like the countryside of England—what I should like more than anything else is a little farm here. The tempo of this country is slower than that of America, and suits me better.—Ex-Mayor Jimmie Walker of New York, interviewed in London.

United States Downs British for Wightman Cup

SARAH PALFREY DAY'S HEROINE

Mrs. Moody Ill; Honors of Victory Shared by Helen Jacobs

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—The discouraging thought that there was no real substitute for Helen Wills Moody in women's international tennis competition was completely dissipated this afternoon as diminutive, 20-year-old Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, stepped into the breach on short notice and featured a clean sweep for the United States over Great Britain in the first day's play for the Wightman cup.

Sarah Palfrey

Far from faltering in the fiercest under the additional responsibility suddenly thrust upon her by the illness of Mrs. Moody, who was confined to her hotel with a sprained back, little Miss Palfrey played superb tennis and shared the honors with Helen Jacobs, the American national champion, in three decisive victories over one of the strongest British teams ever sent to the United States.

Helen Jacobs

Hitting with a sharpness and power that belied her 109 pounds, Miss Palfrey rose to the emergency as a singles substitute by trouncing the sensational English left-hander, Margaret (Peggy) Scriven, 6-3, 6-1, and came back an hour later with Miss Jacobs to dominate a straight-set doubles conquest over Dorothy Round and Mary Heeley, 6-4, 6-2.

Miss Jacobs had begun the cup defense victoriously by taking the measure of the British No. 1 player, Miss Round, 6-4, 6-2, so that the United States, with a 3-0 margin, needed only one more victory in the four matches scheduled tomorrow to keep the trophy.

These developments, as decisive as they were unexpected for the benefit of a crowd of 3,000 tennis followers, put the Americans in a commanding position, regardless of whether Mrs. Moody is able to return to competition.

A decision is to be reached tomorrow morning as to whether Mrs. Moody's condition, the result of a former but not serious injury to her back, will permit her to engage Miss Round in the feature singles match or pair with Alice Marble, San Francisco girl in the doubles. If not, Miss Palfrey will continue as a substitute.

Olympic Athletes Can't Be Stopped From Turning Pro

Johannesburg, South Africa (AP)—A move to prevent South African Olympic athletes from becoming famous on public money and turning "pro" has failed.

A proposal that members of sports teams sent overseas should be prevented from becoming professionals for at least 12 months after their return was turned down at the annual meeting here of the South African Olympic and British Empire Games association.

It was pointed out that unless the Olympic body was prepared to go to law, it could not impose any condition to prevent an amateur from becoming a professional.

Golf Stars Keep Talent In Family

Melbourne, Australia (AP)—Miss Susie Tolhurst, the Australian golfer who caused something of a sensation in the British women's championship last year by beating Miss Virginia Van Wie and Diana Fishwick, is to marry Sloan Morpeth, another prominent golfer.

They will be the lowest handicap husband and wife in golf in Australia. Morpeth is handicapped at plus two and his fiancee plus three.

Workers Take Up Table Tennis Game

San Francisco (AP)—Table tennis has become the recreational game in San Francisco's financial center, with employes of the various business institutions getting their exercise during the lunch hour and when "shop is closed."

Two men, formerly working in a stock and bond house, who couldn't find work tables and within three weeks they added five more. As a means of creating additional interest a weekly tournament was inaugurated.

Inverness Record Broken By Hagen

Inverness, Scotland, Aug. 4 (AP)—Reaching the "farthest north" of any barnstorming expedition of American professional golfers ever to invade the British Isles, Walter Hagen, veteran Ryder cup captain, today smashed the record for the Inverness course with a 32-32—64 while Denny Shute, new British open champion, carded 35-35—70.

Hagen has left his flag flying high in the highlands of Scotland's northermost tip with three course records on his banner in three successive days. Yesterday he shot a 65 at Pitlochry and Wednesday he banged out a 64 at Gingussie.

Tomorrow Hagen and Shute will play an exhibition over the fashionable north Berwick layout and then head southward. Shute is scheduled to sail for the United States Aug. 12.

Chuck Klein and Bill Terry fattened their batting averages in yesterday's slugfest between the Phillies and Giants but the National League's other representative in the Big Six, Spud Davis, held his average stationary. Al Simmons, the only American League leader who played, lost three points by going hitless on four trips to the plate and finished only a point ahead of Jimmy Foxx. The standing:

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, champion of the nation's handicap horses, will seek to boost his earnings past the $300,000 mark in the 31st running of the Saratoga handicap tomorrow.

A victory in the $2,500 added classic will boost his earnings over the $302,000 mark. He now has won $297,170.

NEW YORK HAS BATTING SPREE

Hitless Wonders Down Phils 18 to 1 on 23 Bingles

Philadelphia, Aug. 4 (AP)—The New York Giants, listed as "hitless wonders" who were holding the National league lead on pitching strength alone a couple of weeks ago, went on another batting spree today and duplicated their season's high scoring mark by defeating the Phils 18 to 1.

The Giants equalled the score of Wednesday's second game and made 23 hits, one below the mark set in that contest. After smacking Flint Rhem all around the lot in the first seven innings, they blasted him out with nine runs in the eighth and finished off with two tallies off Ad Liska in the ninth.

Joe Moore, Mel Ott and Frank O'Doul led the attack with four hits apiece, the last two having perfect days at bat. O'Doul carried his hitting streak up to eight straight blows in the last two games. Moore's blows included a triple and two doubles. Every Giant except Watson Clark, the starting pitcher, got one or more hits.

Score by innings:

New York	201	030	192	—	18	23	0

Battle Creek And Detroit Boys Win Legion Baseball

Battle Creek, Aug. 4 (AP)—Roose-Vanker Post, Detroit, and Gen. Geo. A. Custer Post, Battle Creek, emerged victorious in both their first round games in the American Legion junior baseball tournament here today, and tomorrow will meet at 9:30 in what promises to be the feature game of a five-games Saturday program.

After pummeling four pitchers for a 13 to 3 victory over Royal Oak in the morning, the Detroit youngsters came back this afternoon to thresh Sparta 17 to 3. Battle Creek downed Owosso this morning 16 to 3 and handed Muskegon alomst as decisive a defeat this afternoon, 14 to 3.

Royal Oak was eliminated from the tourney when Kalamazoo won a 5 to 3 decision this afternoon. Two defeats automatically drop a team from the meet. Kalamazoo had lost to Muskegon in a morning game 6 to 4. With only one day's play gone of the three-day tournament, already several outstanding players have been unearthed, and rank as leaders for selection on the annual all-state team to be named after the final game Sunday. Some of the most notable are Frazho, Detroit; Gerhardt, Royal Oak; Russell, Sparta; Cross, Battle Creek; Moseley, Muskegon Heights, and Lennon, Kalamazoo.

Heavy hitting featured today's half dozen contests, with the Detroit and Battle Creek teams collecting 27 and 28 hits, respectively. Detroit and Battle Creek pitchers also excelled, making the two teams prospective finalists, just as they were last year.

Classy Pitching And Homers Give Braves Two Wins

Boston, Aug. 4 (AP)—Fine pitching by Ben Cantwell and Bob Smith and home runs by Randy Moore and Wally Berger enabled the Braves to take both games of a doubleheader from the Brooklyn Dodgers today, 4 to 1 and 3 to 0.

Cantwell gave only seven hits in the opener, winning his 14th victory of the season. Moore hit his circuit drive in the first inning with one on to start a three run rally that won the game.

American Girl Golfer Nips Prince of Wales

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—A proud young lady from Tuckahoe, N. Y., Miss Beatrice Gottlieb, tucked away in her treasure chest today a score card signed by the Prince of Wales and attesting to the fact that she had beaten him at golf, first woman of any nationality to accomplish that stunt.

That was just one of a series of trophies that littered the field, however, after Miss Gottlieb, a well-known American golfer who competed in the recent British women's championships at Glen Eagles, scored her triumph 5 and 4 in an eighteen hole round with the prince at Coombe Hill.

The prince, a better than average golfer and runner-up in 1933 parliamentary championships, received a club from the bag of sticks Miss Gottlieb used to beat him with a medal score of 80 to his 83. The young lady also had a box of golf balls as a gift from the prince. Archie Compston, giant British pro, who accompanied them, cherished the memory of a blistering 65 that swamped them both.

Miss Gottlieb, 28 years old, blonde, and a one-handicap player, today told all about her golfing experiences with the prince.

"I was invited to play a round with the prince at Sunningdale and we finished all square after a little bit of indifferent golf here and there," she explained.

"The prince surprised me with the excellence of some of his shots. He took an 83 for the round and I was a lucky golfer to take 80 strokes. I won the match 5 and 4 on level terms."

On The Sidelines

The crushing defeat of the United States Davis Cup team by the English at Roland Garros Stadium brings the suggestion from young Sidney Wood that the game be given back to the boys.

Wood, allegedly on the receiving end of a high pressure pep talk during the 1931 interzone final against the same English team which he claims contributed to his defeat, says:

"Our teams are handicapped by too much officiating. You can't call your life your own if you're playing in Cup competition and it ruins you. I favor a new deal that allows the boys to go to Europe alone and on their own. Then we might get somewhere."

Sidney's suggestion might well be given a trial as the U. S. L. T. A. has tried everything else and still seems as far away as ever from its objective of retrieving the Davis Cup.

It seems reasonable to assume that after a player has reached the status of membership on the Cup team he should have some idea as to his own condition.

Tilden Did

Big Bill Tilden always had his own ideas as to preparation for cup play and it was his refusal to allow some real estate agent, lawyer or stock broker to tell him how he should do this and that which caused so many bitter clashes with the ruling powers.

Despite the statements of Captain Bernon Prentice and Coach Mercer Beasley that Vines and Allison were undertrained for the tie with England, it is the opinion in this corner that the reverse is true.

The U. S. L. T. A. for years has seemed to think that all its youngsters were second Tildens, who would thrive on work, and the more the better.

Every Davis Cup team since the trophy was lost in 1927 has played at Wimbledon on grass a few days before the interzone final and challenge rounds. Tilden could stand it, so could the stoutly built Frank Hunter, but they were poured from a different mould than America's two leading singles players of today.

A Suggestion Or Two

Not even a major league baseball player, the hardest working of all professional athletes, plays any such rigorous schedule as a top flight tennis player, nor under half the strain. Vines and Allison have been playing tennis almost continuously for two years and no matter what the player's constitution or temperament, I submit that is too much "play" in so strenuous a sport.

There were contributing factors to Vines' downfall over which the U. S. L. T. A. had no control—the juicy professional offers for a few—but for a nation anxious to win back the Davis Cup the junket to Australia last winter now looks like a very foolish move indeed.

The suggestion is respectfully submitted to the tennis "brain trust" that they forget Wimbledon, Australia, the "hands across the sea" business for just one year, train a team on clay and send it over to bring back the Cup, and with no other objective.

With Australia developing a fine crop of youngsters and England's Perry and Austin apparently just reaching their peak, the United States had best be settling on some Cup plan that disregards all other consideration except return of the trophy or they may soon find a tougher opponent than the French with which to cope.

The noise of an airplane in the air is made almost entirely by the propeller blades beating on the air, not the motor.

Fight for Singles Title Is Between Shields and Parker

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Big Frank Shields of New York and Frankie Parker, 17-year-old holder of the national clay courts title, swept into the final round of singles of the Meadow club's 43rd annual invitation tennis tournament today.

Shields, bidding for his third tournament crown in as many weeks, blasted the southern giant-killer, Bryan M. Grant of Atlanta, from the courts in the semi-finals, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2, while Parker, finding himself more and more at home on grass, eliminated the defending title-holder and top-seeded player, Sidney B. Wood of New York, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Shields, ranked No. 5 nationally, and Parker, No. 12, will clash for the crown Wood relinquished tomorrow. Shields, whose sudden return to top form has given him the Crescent-Hamilton and Seabright championships in succession, will rule the favorite although Parker gave a magnificent exhibition against Wood today.

Flashing some of the finest backhand shots of the season, Parker never gave the defending champion a real chance to get started. Shields was even more impressive against Grant. He turned on the "heat" from the start and crushed the southerner with a blistering array of shots.

Wood and George M. Lott of Chicago reached the doubles finals along with Parker and Shields. They upset the defending champions, Berkeley Bell of New York and Mangin after five hard sets, 6-8, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4 while Shields and Parker downed Grant and Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore, 6-3, 3-6, 10-8, 6-2.

The doubles final also will be played tomorrow.

Middleweight Title Battle Wednesday

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—Ben Jeby, recognized here as middleweight champion, and Lou Brouillard, of Worcester, former welterweight king, went through a routine examination today by doctors of the New York state athletic commission to determine their condition for a fifteen round title bout here next Wednesday night.

Jeby and Brouillard reported to the same gymiasium, argued as to which should work out first, and wound up impressing the officials with their condition. Jeby weighed 162 3-4 pounds, Brouillard 1646, four above the class limit he must reach by weighing in time Wednesday.

Sox Catcher Sent To Buffalo Team

Boston, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox management tonight announced the sending of Louis Leggett, a catcher, to Buffalo on option. Leggett was taken up from the International league several weeks ago when Rick Ferrell, the Sox' first-string catcher, became ill.

The appointment of Bib Falk, former White Sox outfielder, to the Red Sox scouting staff was also announced.

BASEMAN BATS IN TIGER RUNS

Chicago Defeated, 3 to 2, In Final Game of Detroit Series

Detroit, Aug. 4 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, big first baseman, got a home run in the second inning and a long single in the eleventh to bat in all the runs by which Detroit defeated Chicago 3 to 2 today in an overtime contest.

Vic Sorrell had much the better of Ted Lyons in the pitching argument, the Sox getting only six hits to ten for the Tigers. Chicago got a run in the second when Bill Rogell threw the ball into the dugout trying to complete a double play. Then in the Tiger half Doljack was safe with two out when Webb juggled the ball and Greenberg poled out his circuit blow.

A single by Lyons, a sacrifice by Swanson and a double by Webb in the eighth brought in another Sox run and sent the game into extra innings. Greenberg's single that broke the deadlock came after Gehringer had singled, only to be forced by Stone, and Doljack had singled. Stone stopping at second.

Appling tripled off Sorrell in the fourth, but died on base. Greenberg's homer was the only extra base hit Lyons allowed.

The game ended the series, which the Sox won two games to one, due to a double victory Wednesday.

WEATHER COOL FOR CYCLISTS

Irish Rider Wins Fifth Lap; Derby Due in Escanaba, Aug. 9

Brockville, Ont., Aug. 4 (AP)—Tom Flynn of Ireland won the fifth lap of the transcontinental bicycle marathon today.

Flynn pedalled the 62-mile lap between Cornwall and Brockville in three hours nine minutes to lead Joseph LaPorte of Montreal, and Cyril Pratt of Belgium across the finish line. Pierre Gachon of Montreal again finished among the leaders and maintained his 30-second lead over the field in total elapsed time.

Most of the cyclists finished the short hop in good shape, the cooler weather being a distinct aid.

Tomorrow's lap will carry the marathoners to Pembroke.

Behind Gachon in the elapsed time standings were Zach. Horan, Luedeken, Fielding, Saetta, Smith, Bartell, Ottevaire, Hurley, Elliott and Elder, all tied for second place with total elapsed time of 28:10:00.

One of the contestants, Vander Essen, was taken to the hospital, suffering from a possible attack of appendicitis, immediately after his arrival from Cornwall.

Battle scarred Reggie McNamara, hero of more than one hundred six-day bicycle races and holder of four world's records at from one to 25 miles, is one of the contestants in the $25,000 transcontinental bicycle race, which will bring a caravan of more than seventy athletes to Escanba on Wednesday, August 9.

A program of athletic novelties will be presented at the U. P. state fairgrounds when the racers arrive. The local program is being sponsored by the Escanaba Kiwanis club.

McNamara has won 17 six-day races, has ridden in every part of the civilized world, and holds four world's marks. He holds the one mile mark of 1.45; the 5 mile at 9.20; the 10 mile at 20.07 1-5 and the 25 mile at 53.38 3-5. He is an Australian, one of fourteen children, is 47 years old, married and has three children of his own. His records, made far back in 1915 and 1916, still stand.

Gold Being Mined In Michigan Now

Miners at the Ropes and Michigan gold mines north of Ishpeming in Marquette county say that their locations are being visited by numbers of tourists who are surprised that Michigan has been a producers of gold in commercial quantities and may become so again.

Both shafts are located but a few miles from Ishpeming and are reached by good roads of uncommon scenic beauty. Crews are employed by independent groups at both places. They are working on the old dumps and tailings and getting the shafts in shape to re-open at depth, when actual mining operations will be resumed.

The Ropes has shipped in past years $6650,000 worth of gold, and the Michigan upwards of $50,000. The formation is similar to that of Ontario gold mines now operating successfully. The Ontario gold is more or less associated with near by iron ore and pyrites, and the same is true of the Michigan locations.

The Michigan College of Mining and Technology is co-operating with the owners of the Michigan and the Ropes in every way possible. College metallurgy students are employing the Wilfley table system of obtaining gold concentrates from the Ropes tailings at the mine. Ten tons of the gold-bearing ore from the Michigan were recently shipped to the college for treatment.
